Overview

A Healthy Start to Your Academic Career!

Need a boost before entering a postsecondary health program? Missing prerequisites? Returning to education? Confederation College’s Pre-Health Sciences program is your gateway to success in health sciences education.

Our program offers two specialized streams:

Pathways to Certificates and Diplomas (formerly “College Stream”): Prepares you for college health programs like Practical Nursing, Paramedic, and Dental Hygiene.

Pathways to Advanced Diplomas and Degrees (formerly “University Stream”): Equips you for advanced diploma health programs like Medical Radiation Technology and degree programs like a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

\Both streams provide a solid foundation in health sciences, covering topics such as biology, chemistry, mathematics, and healthcare communications tailored to your educational goals.

Top Highlights

- Customized Preparation: Choose between the two streams based on your career goals.
- Comprehensive Foundation: Gain a solid understanding of key health science concepts and topics.
- Skill Enhancement: Upgrade your academic abilities in math, science, and communication.
- Career Exploration: Discover various health career options to inform your future choices.
- Smooth Transition: Ease into college life with supportive faculty and resources.

Employment Opportunities

While the Pre-Health Sciences program is primarily a preparatory program, it opens doors to various health science pathways, including: Practical Nursing, Paramedic, Dental Hygiene, Medical Radiation Technology, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Other health-related diploma and degree programs

Ideal Candidate
